I am currently a liver transplantation anesthesiologist at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital in Philadelphia.

The SATA has been invaluable in my growth and perspective as a transplant anesthesiologist. I attended numerous SATA meetings from New York down to Washington DC. I connected with colleagues, had intellectual discussions, and presented at recent meetings. Currently, I am serving at the Mid-State Regional meeting organizing committee. I would like to become more actively involved in directly contributing to the organization. I also have seen SATA growing rapidly in the past few years and have big ambitions to promote SATA that more transplant anesthesiologist could benefit from the society.

From prior committee experience, I have learned that the most effective way to progress our field is through being active, and collaborating across institu-
